REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS OF THE LOUISIANA ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE M. E. CHURCH SOUTH, JANUARY, 1884.

It is with feelings of mingled wonder and delight that we contemplate the progress of Missions in every part of the world. Every branch of the Church seems inspired with an unwonted zeal in this great cause.

Missionaries are finding their way to every part of the world, and depositing the leaven of the Gospel among all the families of our race.

Men, warmed with Apostolic zeal, have abandoned the comforts of civilized life, and are gone to the ends of the earth to bear to benighted nations the first tidings of a precious Saviour.

Numerous Societies have risen into existence on both sides of the Atlantic under whose foistering care Missionaries are now employed. And from India, and from China, from Madagascar and from Japan, from Africa and from Australia, from Mexico and from South America, as well as from the scores of other fields, the laborers send up the cheering news that God is giving the heathen to his son for a possession, and the intermost parts of the earth for his inheritance.

Great changes are being wrought in the most ancient heathen States; the darkest forms of idolatry and superstition are melting away. It is said that Christianity has made greater progress in the last century than it did in the first century of the Christian Era.

The Church is beginning to feel that the world belongs to Christ, and must be subdued to his reign; the Ministry are beginning to feel anew the spirit of their mission—the love of Christ is constraining them to go into the regions beyond. Our own Church and Ministry are drinking into this spirit. The world, the world for Christ! is the cry that passes along the line of the advancing hosts. Neither the boundaries of continents nor the limits of civilization should circumscribe our efforts. Wherever man is found, wherever a wounded, bruised, and benighted soul exists, thither should we seek to turn the current of that life-giving stream, which is to touch the nations and revivify the world.

If the feet of them who bring the tidings of salvation are "beautiful upon the mountains," some, at least, of the beauty will be reflected upon those who send them along that shining pathway. And what object can be so worthy as that of raising those who are dead in trespasses and sins to life and immortality, through the faith of the Gospel? What sacrifice so acceptable and pleasing to God, as to do good and communicate for this great work of sending the Gospel to every creature? In what way, as in this, can we so effectually secure to ourselves durable riches, "incorruptible and unfading?" In what way can we so effectually secure the approbation of our own conscience, and the plaudit of God our Saviour, as by contributing, with readiness of mind and true benevolence of heart, to the furtherance of the Gaspel and to the extension of the Redeemer's Kingdom.

The liberal soul deviseth liberal things. There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, and it tendeth to poverty. It is more blessed to give than to receive, for Godloveth a cheerful giver. During the past year there were no missions proper within the bounds of our Conference. The territory, otherwise missionary, was occupied by pastors on circuits and stations, aided by the local ministry. The Board recommends the above course, in order to give efficiency to the work. We have a large missionary territory in our state, but for want of means, and in some instances men, we are not able to carry on the work as its importance demands.

Can not we be moved, by love to God, and love to man, by faith and philanthropy, by the benefits which are ours through the gospel, and by the coming glories of the Messiah's eternal reign to send the Gospel to those who have it not?

Now is the time, during this centennial year, to set in motion a wave of influence that, with ever-widening sweep, may roll on from generation to generation, until nation after nation, with glad voices and willing hearts shall unite to crown Christ Jesus, Lord of all.

R. S. TRIPPETT, Secretary.

New Orleans, January 13, 1884.

The amount assessed is same as the Bishop's claim, $800, and is apportioned like that among the Districts.

Rev. J. A. Parker, Chairman of the Board of Education, read the following report, which was adopted.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

REPORT No. 1.

The Board of Education have carefully examined into the various interests committed to their care, and are grateful to the "Giver of every good and perfect gift," for the success which has attended the labors of the faithful educators who preside over our institutions of learning.

We are assured by both Bishop Keener, the President of the Board of Trustees, and Dr. Rush, the President of Centenary College, that that old and honored justitution is in a prosperous condition.

The Conference Board of Education have come into possession of no data from which it can determine the amount of money contributed (during the Conterence year just closed) to the cause of Education. Trustees report $299 00 as having been collected since the last annual report. Whether this comprises the whole amount collected during Conference year just closed we do not know, nor does it matter materially, since it is perfeetly apparent that that institution does not receive anything like the sum its anefulness and prominence demand. For many long years Centenary College has suffered, its usefulness has been checked and the cause of Education cation retarded, all for want of a few thousand dollars to put it on a solid and unquestioned basis. Its survival is the strongest evidence of the success of persevering self-sacrifice. The one great question which has occupied our time and engaged our thoughts is, How can we relieve our Colleges from embarrassment, and promote their work and encourage their aims?

Ordinarily, the answer to this question is, "Give them patronage." but in the present case no probable amount of patronage of that kind will Our Colleges need money, and if the Conference demeet the demanda. sire to advance them on the highway to success, it must furnish money. That Dr. Rush is doing a grand work, a work out of which work will be evolved in the future, no one can disbelieve, if he will take the time and trouble to look into the report of the Board of Trustees of Centenary College.

Referring to Mansfield Female college, we find its success under the Presidency of Rev. F. M. Grace, D. D. much greater than under the circumstances, we had boped to see.

Under circumstances calculated to depress any business and sufficient to crush an enterprise of this kind, Dr. Grace has succeeded in so quieting the agitation, aided by the effects of time and reflection, as to raise the attendance from 35 to 60 pupils, with a prospect for a still further increase of

This College, like Centenary, though not in debt, greatly needs money. and without money will be necessarily hindered to some extent in its work.

In view of the demands of our Colleges, the Conference Board of Education had determined to try to raise the sum of $50,000 as a thank offering to the Lord for His merciful providence over our Church during the first century of its existence, and apply the same to Centenary and Mansfield Female Colleges; $30,000 to the former and $20,000 to the latter. Respect-J. A. PARKER, Chairman. fully submitted.

J. D. HABPER, Secretary.

REPORT NO. 2.

The remonstrance of certain persons, acting as Trustees of Pierce and Paine College, in regard to the sale of the property of said corporation and its appropriation to other institutions of learning, under the control of this conference, we find to be uncalled for.

This conference, at its session in Mansfield in January of last year, passed a resolution appointing Bro. J. L. Scales a committee to inquire into and report to this conference the value and condition of all the assets of Pierce and Paine Cellege, and make "such suggestions in regard to the best methods of applying the same to the uses of the Church, as he might think proper."

As the Conference has some property there, the value and condition of which are not known to us, we recommend the adoption of the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the Board of Managers of Pierce and Paine College, for the year 1884, be constituted as follows, viz:

CLEBICAL—B. F. Alexander, R. Parvin, C. F. Evans, H. Capers, J. M. Brown, S. S. Keener, John Pipes, F. M. Grace, Wm. Hart, J. M. Beard, J. J. Cassity, C. R. Benson.

LAY-H. J. Davis, A. Massey, Wm. Robertson, Dr. Wilson, D. A. Blackshear, Jas. W. Gibbs, John Fike, Wm. Hopkins, Thos. Porter, Wm. Porter, Geo. Martin, Joshua Saunders.

Resolved, That said Board of Managers be and are hereby instructed to report to this Conference at its next session:

First-The kind of assets belonging to Pierce and Paine College.

Second-The condition of the titles to said assets.

Third—The value of all the property belonging to said institution. Respectfully submitted.

J. A. PARKER, Chairman.

LOUISIANA LOTTERY.

Whereas, The State of Louisiana through its representatives in Constitutional Convention assembled, has declared gambling to be a vice, and in the face of this declaration has licensed, and does, through its courts of law, protect and maintain the Louisiana State Lottery Company in a species of gambling of which the Supreme Court of the United States has said: "Experience has shown that the common forms of gambling are comparatively innocent when placed in contrast with the widespread pestilence of lotteries which enters every dwelling, reaches every class, infects the whole community, preys upon the hard earnings of the poor and plunders the ignorant and simple;" and,

WHEREAS, The article of the Constitution which declares gambling to be a vice, is but a recognition of the spirit and precept of the Divine law which is above all human law, therefore

Be it resolved by the Louisiana Annual Conference of the Methodist-Episcopal Church South;

1st. That the licensing and legalizing of a business declared to be a vice is not only in open defiance of human law and decency, but a bold and defiant infraction of the Law of God.

2d. That we, as Ministers of that Sovereign who is above all earthly powers and potentates, will, in His name, from pulpit and press, protest against the perpetuation of this iniquity and invoke His aid in the extermination of this evil and its elimination from our borders.

3d. That we recommend the circulation in our several charges of petitions to the Legislature, praying them to submit to the people of Louisiana a Constitutional Amendment forever prohibiting the establishment or existence of lotteries in the State of Louisiana.

PRESENTATION TO REV. BISHOP H. H. KAVANAUGH, D. D.

Rev. Dr. J. B. Walker, in behalf of the Louisiana Annual Conference, made to Rev. Bishop Kavanaugh a speech of congratulation on to-day completing the eighty second year of his life, recalling felicitously conspicuous events in his Ministry and episcopal office, and presented him with a gold headed walking cane.

At the same time, Thala Lyons, the slxth anniversary of whose birth this day brought, tripped lightly up to the rostrum with a basket of beautiful fresh flowers, which Dr. Walker also presented, and described as the symbol of immortality and a fra grant benediction upon his advancing years.

Rev. J. A. Ivy, in a short and graceful speech, also presented a copy of the New Testament Scriptures, superbly bound and printed in the largest type used by the American Bible Society in its publications.

Bishop Kavanaugh in response, while accepting the gifts, made a touching and beautiful speech, recognizing in graceful and eloquent sentiments his appreciation of our confidence and affection.

The goard at its regular meeting shall apportion among the Presiding Elders' Districts the amounts assessed upon the Conference by the Parent Board, and the District Stewards are instructed to apportion the assessments upon the Districts among the several charges of the same.

REPORT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

The Sunday School Board beg leave to submit the following report:

The statistics reported to the Conference show an increase which, under all the circumstances, speaks well for the workers in this field.

We have now 159 schools, 962 officers and teachers, and 7006 scholars.

We are glad to see that our people are keeping abreast with the constantly increasing zeal of the religious world in behalf of this cause.

Our Sunday School Periodicals, published at Nashville, show evident signs of improvement. The Secretary, Dr. Cumnyngham, has valuable assistance in the person of Rev. J. A. Lyons, and they are giving us, at low rates, literature which is doubtless equal to any in this field.

These publications are also mailed in time to reach the most distant schools in time for use as demanded in the schoolroom.

The Sunday School and its Methods, by Rev. J. A. Lyon, is a valuable book, and we recommend its circulation.

The last General Conference made some recommendations which ought not to be overlooked:

First. It recommends that Presiding Elders hold District Sunday School Conferences in their districts either during the District Conference, or at some other time during the year.

How far this recommendation has been observed in this Conference we are not prepared to say, but we respectfully suggest that such meetings would greatly stimulate our Sunday School work.

Second. The second recommendation is that a Sunday School Confer.

ence Convention be held at such time and place as may be indicated by the Sunday School Board.

We are aware that a proposition of this sort will meet with some opposition; but we think it would be well to test the plan, and not write it down as impracticable or inefficient before trial. We therefore recommend that a Convention be held at Mansfield on the 14th and 15th of June next, and that said Convention be composed of Presiding Elders, Pastors, and one delegate from each Sunday School. The Board would respectfully recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

That in the hundredth year of Methodism on this continent, we devoutly render thanks to Almighty God for His blessings upon the Snudsy School cause, and that we make a special effort this year to bring up the number of Sunday School scholars in every charge to the number of Church members in the same.

J. M. Brown, Chairman.

REPORT OF CENTENARY COMMITTEE.

The Conterence Centenary Committee met in the pastor's office of the Carondelet Street Church, on Thursday, the 10th instant, at 2 p. m., and perfected its organization by the election of the following officers, viz: Rev. J. B. Walker, D. D., President; Rev. J. M. Beard, Secretary, and S. B. McCutchen, Treasurer. Upon motion, Rev. C. W. Carter, D. D., was elected to preach the Centennial sermon at the next session of the Louisiana Annual Conference. The following committee was created to arrange the necessary preliminaries of the Centennial celebration within our Conference boundaries: Rev. John T. Sawyer, Chairman; Revs. B. F. Alexander and Charles F. Evans.

Rev. C. Keener offered, substantially, the following resolutions which, after prolonged discussion and some inessential changes, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the leading object of the Centenary observance of this Conference shall be the spiritual improvement of our people by reviewing the signal mercies of God to us as a Church the first hundred years of our organic life, and that, as an expression of our gratitude to God for His blessings, we make a thank offering of such a character as shall not only be permanent, but also increase the efficiency of our Church in this State for years to come.

Resolved, That as such thank offering we endeavor to raise the sum of fifty thousand dollars as a Centenary fund to be divided between the causes of Church Extension, of Education and of Domestic Missions as follows. $20,000 for Church Extension, $20,000 for Education, and $10,000 for Domestic Missions.

Resolved, That while we will recognize the right of each donor to give specific direction to the contributions which he may make to the fund; yet, in view of the destitution throughout the territory occupied by us of parsonage and church buildings caused, in a measure, by those peculiar difficulties with which we, as a Conference, contend, we recommend that onehalf of that portion of our Centenary fund to be raised for Church Extension be expended in the erection of parsonages and churches, or the payment of debts upon such property, within our own State.

Resolved, That among our educational enterprises in Louisiana, Centenary College stands forth first and prominent, the oldest institution of learning in the Southern connection, it being the magnificent monument of a former Centenary of Methodism; and that, in view of the good work it has done in years gone by and is continuing to do in the Southwest educating ministers and the sons of ministers free of tuition, and thereby conserving the interests of Methodism by filling our pulpit with an intelligent and consecrated ministry, therefore, we recommend that one-half of the fund donated to education be expended in the repair and endowment of Centenary College; and that, in view of our special obligation to Mansfield Female College, it being the exclusive property of this Conference, the other half of this fund be expended in the repair and endowment of that institution of learning.

Resolved, That the fourth Sunday in May, of the current year, and as many Sabbaths thereafter as will suffice for the accommodation of works composed of more than one appointment, be set apart for the public Centennial services in all the churches within our Conference boundaries.

Committee adjourned subject to call.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS.

Your committee on District Conference Records would respectfully represent that we have scrutinized the various books submitted to us, and make upon them the following observations:

The record of the Alexandria District has been well kept.

The Delhi District Conference Record is a model for neatness and its facilities for reference. It has also the virtue of being neither too brief nor too long—but is a clear condensed journal of Conference business.

The Shreveport Journal was examined and the minutes were found to be faithfully recorded. They are much more voluminous than necessary.

On the Homer District Record book we make this criticism:

First. It is not paged.

Second. There is no distinction made between ministers in charge of the circuits and the lay element.

Third. At one of the sessions it is not stated whether or not the minutes were approved.

Fourth. Reference is made to the committee without saying what committee when there were several committees.

Fifth. It appears that there was no Divine services held at the opening of one of its sessions.

Sixth. There is no mention made as to how the Conference adjourned, whether with or without the Benediction. Otherwise correct.

B. CARRADINE, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHURCH PUBLICATIONS.

Your committee ask leave to report that they have considered the subject of Church Publications. The publishing interest has become one of the great industries, as we I as one of the most efficient of all the factors of modern civilization. Without printing we see not how the Reformation ever could have become the widespread and permanent power it is.

The illustrious and sainted Wesley, in so many things an example worthy of all imitation, was quick to see, and avail himself of the power of the press, and soon became eminent as a publisher of books original, compiled and republished, and illustrated in a conspicuous degree what may be done in this direction. His magazine was began so early as 1778, one hundred and six years ago. His various publications amounted in the aggregate to 14 volumes of closely printed original prose works. His commentaries and compilations and abridgements form a list of one hundred and nineteen publications in prose, one of which, entitled the "Christian Library," alone contained fifty volumes. He published fifty-two separate works in poetry, the joint work of himself and brother, Charles Wesley and lastly, five collections on hymns and tunes.

As early as the conditions of our new coin ry would permit, American Methodism followed in the footsteps of Wesley, and English Wesleyans. As early as 1783 official attention was given to the publication of books by the appointment of a "Book Steward," with a borrowed capitol of $600. This was the foundation of the great "book concern" of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which was first located at Philadelphia, and removed to New York in 1804. A branch was established at Cincinnation 1820. The two branches represent a capitol of near two millons dollars. Our first American Methodist newspaper, "The Zion Herald," was established in 1822; the 'Christian Advocate," in New York, four years later, 1826. As far back as 1818 the Methodist Magazine, now the Quarterly of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was begun.

Immediately on the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Petersburg, Va., 1846, a Book Agent was elected, the venerable John Early. As soon as circum-tances would permit a Publishing House was established at Nashville, Tennessee.

The last report of our Book Agent shows that our Publishing House is more prosperous than ever before—that its business and its usefulness continually extending.

Our various publishing enterprises constitute a grand arm of aggressive, as well as conservative force, in the spiritual war of light against darkness. As Christians, and as Methodists, we should see to it that this great agent of power is preserved and invigorated.

A man's associates determine his character. Our most intimate companions are the authors of the books we read; they are with us when others are denied our presence; they enter into our homes, and unquescioned, cross the thresholds of our private chambers.

Bad books are issued in vast numbers. In New York a'one 200,000 books of fiction and sensational stories are issued per week. Fer of these books tend to the knowledge or love of God, but for the most part exert a demoralizing influence upon their readers, most of whom are young and in a formative period of their lives. Books are equal to anything in influence, save parental example, precept and prayer, in educating and moulding character. Our work is to fill the mind with truth, so that there shall neither beroom nor taste for error nor for immorality. We must print interesting books, and we must sell them cheap, so that the bread in our Father's house shall be as cheap and as accessible as the husks on which the swine do feed.

Our Pubishing House has issued valuable commentaries, Biblical dictionaries, standard theological works, and has been specially rich in the department of Church history, biography and Christian experience. We are glad to know that our various Advocates are weekly preaching, teaching and cheering our people, and keeping us all advised of the fortunes of the war the Church militant is waging against error and sin. Their circulation is extending, but this circulation ought to be more rapid and extensive. The fields are white to the harvest, the opportunity wide, inviting us to reach forth our sickles and reap for God. As Christians, we wish God speed to all who are writing and printing for Christ—but your committee especially recommend our periodical Sunday School publications, our central organ, the Christian Advocate, and our New Orleans Christian Advocate. These papers, by their cheapness, their intellect, and their usefulness, commend themselves to our most hearty approval and diligent endeavors to extend their circulation.

Resolved, That we most heartily commend our books and our papers to the patronage of our people.

Resolved, That as members of the Leuisiana Annual Conference we most cordially endorse the business management and editorial conduct of our own organ, the New Orleans Christian Advocate.

Resolved, That we rejoice in the increasing patronage of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, and we pledge a continuation of our efforts to increase its circulation.

J. B. WALKER, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MEMOIRS.

We, your Committee on Memoirs, respectfully, though with sadness, report that three of our members, Revs. Joel Saunders, Wm. D. Stayton and J. Lane Borden have been cut down by the ruthless hand of death since our last session, and we present you herewith sketches of their lives:

REV. JOEL SAUNDERS.

Rev. Joel Saunders was born in Concordia parish. La., J nuary 26-1814. was converted on the night of November 1, 1828, and on the day thereafter joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, under the ministry of Rev. Thos. Griffin, of the Mississippi Conference. On the 17th of July, 1836, he was licensed to preach and was admitted on trial in the Mississippi Conference the following December.

His first appointment was to Concordia Circuit. The second year he traveled the Raleigh Circuit; at the close of which he was received into full connection and ordained Deacon by Bishop Morris. The third and fourth years of his ministry he traveled the Lake Washington Circuit; and was erdained Elder by Bishop Andrew in D.c. mber, 1840. In 1841 he traveled the Natchitoches Circuit. In 1842 and 1843 he traveled the Caddo Circuit. In 1844 he was reappointed to the Natchitoches Circuit. In 1845 he traveled the D'Arbonne Circuit. At the close of this year, having received but one hundred dollars for the year's labor, and no probability of paying his debts, he located. In 1836 he taught school. In 1847 he was employed on the Minden Circuit. In 1848 he was engaged in agricultural pureuits, and at the close of this year was readmitted into the Louisiana Conference. In 1849 traveled the Red River Circuit. In 1850 the Bossier Circuit. In 1851 the Jackson Circuit. In 1852 he was presiding Elder of the Shreveport District. From 1853 to 1856, unclusive, he was Presiding Elder of the Monroe and Quachita Districts. In 1857 he was agent for Homer College; and was Tract agent in 1858. He was on Grand Cheuiere Mission in 1859 and 1860. From 1861 to 1863, inclusive, he traveled the Calcasieu Circuit. At the close of i863 he was granted a superannuated relation, which relation he sustained to the day of his death.

Brother Saunders was twice married; first to Miss Muford in 1840. His second marriage was to Miss E H. Ashly, of Vernon, La., in 1867. He emigrated to Texas and settled in Cherokee county, in 1865, in which state he continued to reside the remainder of his life.

Brother Saunders was a good man and a sound preacher; always sealous in the cause of Christ and ready to defend the doctrines of his Church.

He was in feeble health for a long time; but about six weeks before his death he began to fail very rapidly, and fully realised the fact that his work was about done.

While disease committed its ravages on his body it seems that his mind was unimpaired. He died in "great peace" and without a struggle August 1, 1883.

Thus passed away another of the faithful laborers in the Master's vineyard.

Resolved 1st, That in the death of Rev. Joel Saunders the Church has lost a good man and a faithful minister.

Resolved 2d, That we tender our Christian sympathies to his bereaved family.

Resolved 3d, That a copy of the minutes containing these resolutions be forwarded to his afflicted widow.

REV. W. D. STAYTON.

Rev. Wm. D. Stayton was born in Washington—now Marion—County, Ky., April 1st, 1826; married to Miss Francis H. Ashley July 6th, 1847; converted in August 1848, licensed to preach in January 1856, and died in Coushatta, La., January 18th, 1883.

On a recommendation from his Quarterly Conference he was received on probation in the Louisiana Annual Conference on February 5th, 1857, from which time to the year 1869, he served faithfully and acceptably the tollowing works: North Rapides Circuit and Colored Mission in 1857-68. Calcasieu Circuit in 1859-60. Natchitoches Circuit in 1861-62. Farmer-ville Circuit in 1863-64-65. Downsville Circuit in 1866. bartholomew Circuit in 1867. Iona, now Rayville Circuit in 1868. Waterproof Circuit in 1869.

At the close of 1869 he was transferred to the Memphis Conference and appointed to the Decaturville Circuit. He was permitted, however, to labor on this Circuit but eight weeks, owing to physical mability.

At the close of 1870 he was retransferred to the Louisiana Conference and traveled the Springville Circuit in 1871-72-73; South Bossier Circuit in 1874.

At the c'ose of 1874 he located, but was re-admitted into the Conference in December 1876, He traveled the Coltax Circuit in 1877; Springville Circuit in 1878-79; Pleasant Hill in 1880. He was appointed to South Bossier again for 1881 but a severe attack of pneumonia, which developed into a tatal consumption, prevented his soing to his Circuit.

Brother Stayton was ordained Deacon by Bishop Paine at the close of his Second year in the itinerancy, and Elder by Bishop Andrew in December 1865. He was a good man, a faithful and earnest preacher, a devoted and affectionate husband and father.

During his illness he rejoiced much "in hope of the glory of God." In the word of God and the incomparable bymns of the Church he took great delight. He sung almost to the last, and often in great suffering he would sing "Prisse God from whom all blessing flow," etc.

Brother J. B. Cassity, who was with him much, says: I returned from Conference just in time to spend his last hours with him. I saw ou entering his room that he was crossing the "narrow stream" and was almost touching the other shore. He recognized me, took me by the hand and said he was not suffering much. About an hour afterward he passed away. The next day after appropriate funeral services at the church in presence of a large concourse of people he was buried in the cemetery at Springville, one mile from Coushatta.

Brother Stayton leaves a wife, two sons and three daughters, all grown, two of whom are members of the church. He lived the life of a Christian and died in the triumphs of the Christian Faith.

REV. J. LANE BORDEN.

This beloved Brother was born in Newberne, Green County, Alabama, in 1845, of highly respectable parentage. When a little boy he was converted under the ministry of Rev. F. M. Grace, who afterward prepared him for college. In 1866 he entered the Southern University, in which institution he acquired a finished education. In 1869 he came to Louisiana and was a Professor in Homer College for one session. From thence he went to Trenton and engaged in teaching. In January, 1870, he was admitted on proba ion in the Louisiana Annual Conference, and appointed to Trenton and Monroe as junior preacher with Rev. Chas. F. Evans. preacher in charge. At this place he was particularly noted for his efficiency among the children in the Sabbath School. In 1871-72 he was appointed to Trenton Oircuit. In 1873 he was President of Homer College. In 1874-75 he was at Moreau Street Church, in New Orleans. On Vernon Circuit in 1876. At Mouroe and Delhi in 1877-78. At Mausfield station in 1879-80, and reappointed to the Presidency of Mansfield Female College in 1881-82-83, in which capacity he served doceptably till his death, which ocourred at the close of the spring session of the past year.

Brother Borden was ordsined Elder by Bishop Kavanaugh in 1872. As to his ordination to Deacon's orders committee have no information

He was married to Miss Ollie Shepherd, of Trenton, La., in 1871, whom he leaves with six little children in a dependent condition.

During the connection of Brother Borden with this Conference, from 1870 to 1883 inclusive, there has never been a complaint presented to this Conference against him.

On the 16th of June last he fell by the hand of violence and now fills an untimely grave.

Your committee would heartily commend the widow and children to your fostering care and pray the blessing of Almighty God upon them.

THOS. J. UPFON, Chairman of Committee.

REV. J. LANE BORDEN.

(A enlogy delivered by Rev. Charles F. Evans, D. D., at the Conference Memorial Service, and published by request of the Bishop and his cabinet.)

I had the pleasure of standing in the most intimate and confidential relations with Brother Borden. As the memoir has just recited he commenced his itinerent life under me. I married him, received his wife into the church, baptised his first child, and now, with tearful tenderness, participate in this service.

The circumstances of our Brother's sudden, tragic death have given oceasion for multitudes to scruttnize his life, and for those who knew and loved him best to con their recollections and publish his praise. His early childhood finds a loving admirer in the venerable and renowned Prof. Tutwifer, of Alabama, who says: "I have no he itation in saying that I have never had a better or more successful student, nor one more upright in all his deportment. An experience of more than fifty years with boys has convinced me of the truth of the adage that 'the boy is the father of the man.'" A classmate of his in the Southern University says: "He enjoyed the full confidence of the faculty and the confidence and respect of his fellow-students both for his excellence in study and for the purity of his character." A distinguished citizen of Alabama says: "A fellow-student who knew him for years in his young manhood, 'in the heyday of the blood,' renders this willing testimony: 'He was of a calm, thoughtful reflective spirit; he received 'fortune's buffets and reward with equal thanks;' the passions and the judgment were so well commingled in him that he was beyond the fonl clutch of lust-and any girl, pure or impure, was as sate under his guardianship as it she were beneath the sheltering arms of her own father.'" His pupils in Homer, and those in Mansfield Female Col lege, which from being the site of his assassination has become his monument, have with one accord indignantly repelled the charges of the assassins, and with tearful tenderness dwell upon his virtues and extol his memory. His ministerial brethren, both in his own church and others where he has labored, boldly assert their confidence in his purity of speech and conduct, and bewail the loss inflicted upon a noble citizenship, upon the cause of education, upon the heroic workers in all philanthropic enterprises and upon "the church of the living God."

As a man, he was possessed of an acute mind, skillfully trained by scholastic exercises and stored with the harvest of centuries of polite and scientific investigations. With such an equal development of his faculties and such a varied fund of information he was too big to be a bi_ot and too valuable to be a cipher in_any circle. In either of his chosen professions, in mercantile and political guilds, where necessities of his own or of others called him, and in the social and political sphere his intellectual force was respected and sought. With this acumen he combined sensibilities as severely disciplined in the school of Christianity.

From his childhood to the day of his death he was distinguished for his unexceptionable life. Like other men he was the subject of disappointments, and in turn he disappointed the financial expectations of his friends. But when three days before his death he publicly referred to the success which crowned his self-denying toil, with a smile of honest pride he defied anyone to present a claim he was not willing and able to pay. His cheer-fulness brought sunshine into every company, and his magnanimity is nobly shown in that whatever sorrows he felt in his heart his face and his voice carried only happiness to his friends.

He was polite at heart, and his manners were not acquired from the usages of refined circles, but came freely from the benevolence that cheerfully sacrificed personal comfort and ambition to the necessities and comforts of others. Money was regarded as valueless in itself, and his generous disposition kept him poor while making others rich. He was a man of tender and profound sympathy, of ardent and strong convictions, and never lacked for the courage of expression or the fortitude which robbed defeat of its pang. In personal valor he was equal to all the emergencies which rose in his life, and yet he was thoughtful, deliberate and selfpoised. Frugal in his diet, abstemious in his drink, modest in his apparel, unremitting in toil, bountiful in his gifts, patient in disappointments, resigned under affletions, magnanimous toward his enemies, and tenderly affectionate to his friends, he presents us an unselfish life thoroughly consecrated to his Master's cause.

As a father, he was both gentle and strong. As a husband, he was both fond and pure. As a friend, he was true, to his own damage, and constant as the North Star. As an educator he accepted the solemn trust of youthful minds with a trembling sense of responsibility and stood in the place of their parents as with a commission from Deity. As a minister of Jesus Christ, he was a burning exponent of his Master's love, and whether he worked or prayed, instructed or entreated, he did it with a heart that was full of kindness.

We have lost from our number a gentleman, a scholar and a Christian; as related to our Conference, a servant, a friend and a brother. After the fierce assault, and murderous shot, and savage shrick and the fiendish waltz of his assessins, his body in a quiet grave finds an "honored, undisturbed sleep from which none ever wake to weep."

REPORT ON TEMPERANCE.

Your Committee on Temperance beg leave to submit the following as their report:

That the licensed liquor trafic is the most gigantic and afflictive evil of the world and age no observant or thoughtful person will deny. In the face of the ruin in body and soul, for time and eternity, of the million of drunkards every yearn manufactured by it in these United States and of its other millions of wretched victims in all lands; in the face of the broken hearts, blasted hopes, grinding poverty and immeasurable anguish of the innocent millions of women and children made to suffer because the government must have blood money, euphoniously called revenue, that comes from granting license to liquor dealers; in the face of the fact that threefourths of the crimes committed and of the costs of criminal procedure are directly chargeable to the drink system; in the face of the fact that the good people of this or of any land have it in their power to rise in their might and down the monster: in the face of all these indisputable facts it is the wonder of wonders that the liquor power is found ruling in national,

State and municipal governments and sweeping away the barriers of public virtue and private rights. The granting of license for the manufacture and sale as a beverage of intoxicating liquors is in itself a crime.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Harmon, of the Mississippi Conference, says: "The exercise of all rightful authority under organized forms of society, covered by the ægis of constitutional law and common law, must, of necessity, be so extremed as to protect the public weal and insure the moral, the physieal and the religious safety of her citizens. The fundamental maxims of all sound law declare that no person or persons shall be permitted to use their property to the damage of society or persons in the State. How, then, did State Legislatures obtain the authority to turn loose upon the world such an evil principle as the liquor license eystem, contravening the very spirit and intent of all sound constitutional law, and subversive of good government? This gigantic wrong perpetrated against all the interests of huwanity, against the diguity and virtue of good government. against the fundamental prosperity of the States, against the peace and happiness of millions, must be dispossessed and driven out from its stronghold; it must be cut, or torn out or voted out from the statutes of all the States; and this criminal legislation must not be held as legal in any true sense of law, because such legislation is crime producing and, therefore, wickedly attempts to legalize that which is illegal. If a just and righteous retribution could be visited upon the guilty legislators who continue to continue to sanction this criminal legislation by the murdered millions who have been cruelly immolated on this bloody alter under the forms of law, never again would there appear a license statute to blacken and smirch the pages of State legislation. The whole liquor license system from the state constitutional conventions, which opened this Pandora's box, to the State Legislatures, which hissed on the vile serpent, and from the Legislatures to the counties, towns and cities, which have multiformed the fiery heads of this great monster, the whole web and woof is repugnant to the Constitution of the United States."

In the Nashville, Advocate, of September 8, 1883, Guilford Jones uses the following language: "In the providence of God, the people of this country are the rulers; their votes coutrol the law-makers and those who execute the laws; hence they are particeps criminis in all the mischief which the liquor trafic is doing in this land."

After giving the facts and figures concerning the liquor trafic, he concludes his article in these strong and truthful words: "Now, before the bar of public opinion, and before the Judge of all the earth, we charge that the free men of this country are responsible for all this waste and terrible tide of woe. They have the power to throttle this great 'blood-gorged dragon' and destroy him. If they fail to do it they must stand charged with being partakers in this dark and terrible criminality; and if the court of public opinion fails to abate the evil, the guilty must face the charge in the light of the judgment fires."

Your committee are convinced that in order to the death of the liquor power the temperance people, male and female, white and black, in and out of the membership of the various churches must organize, not for a day, not for a year, but for the war, and the end, absolute prohibition. Our foe is found thoroughly organized, and, wholly unprincipled; spent one million and more of dollars to defeat the women of Ohio in their late effort to carry that State for prohibition. The enemy wherever the vote is taken are seen moving to battle as well-trained, thoroughly equipped soldiers. The friends of temperance must learn wisdom from their foes and, as in Iowa, Ohio, Georgia, Arkansas, Mississippi, and in other States, and in some portions of our own State, go into permanent organization and, relying on God and their own pesistent efforts, move forward with close ranks and steady march. The police jury of a parish are compelled, upon the petition of a respectable number of citizens, to grant an election in each ward of the parish. There should be promptly organized in each town, village and neighborhood, a Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and, thus banding together in one the Christian temperance element of all the churches, there will soon be in active operation throughout this State a moral power that cannot be long resisted. The enemy must be fought in detail: a ward at a time must be snatched from his grasp, then a county or a parish, and then a State, and another and another until our broad, fair land shall be saved from the curse. The Church of Christ, helped by the respectable and moral people who are not church members, can do away with this evil, but not without thorough organization and the unconquerable spirit that can stand defeat—defeat to-day to win to-morrow's battle The ballot, wielded not on the line of a political party, but in obedience to Christianity and the demands of highest citizenship, can bring relief in the near future In God's fear, and for love of man, let us use

"The weapon that is firmer set
And surer than the bayonet."

Your committee submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we do not identify ourselves with any partian movement; but as a Conference, representing the true interest of the people of Louisiana, we do seek such tegislation as shall free our State from the power and influence of the grog-shop, which we recognize as the enemy of all good, and we do hereby call upon all good citizens, irrespective of party or creed, to aid in this object.

Resolved, That we heartily commend the self-acrificing and efficient labors of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and we will co-operate with and assist them in their labors when they come among us.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by this Conference whose duty it shall be to confer with similar committees, which may be appointed by other religious bodies, to prepare and circulate for signatures petitions to the Legisture of Louisiana, asking that body to submit to the people a proposition so changing the organic law of the State as to forever prohibit the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors except for medicinal, scientific or sacramental purposes.
